Cisco IW Monitor, Release 3.0.0

The Cisco Industrial Wireless (IW) Monitor is an on-premises tool that manages and displays real-time data and situational alerts from all Ultra-Reliable Wireless Backhaul (URWB) devices and Cisco Wireless devices with URWB enabled.

IW Monitor displays data and situational alerts from every URWB device in a network in real-time. IW Monitor is a virtual image-based diagnostic and analysis interface, with the virtual image installed in Docker format to monitor Fluidmesh (end-of-life notification announced) and IW devices.

IW Service allows you to configure and provision the IW devices, while IW Monitor displays real-time data and alerts for URWB devices in the network.
